

IPOs in Germany:

Will the IPO market gain further dynamics in the second half of the year?

Half of those interviewed (50%) assume that between six and ten companies will enter the German capital market in the second half of 2018

The fact that IPO candidates have experienced management with track record has become even more important.

For 86% of respondents, this point comes first

93%,
favour the technology sector for IPOs

Almost half of those interviewed expected for 2018
an issue volume of up to 8 billion euros